Student Organizations Seeking Recognition
January 25, 2006

The Vagina Monologues

Purpose: As members of the University of Richmond community invested in ending violence against women and girls, this organization will strive to create awareness of these issues through publicity of the V-Day movements and through an annual benefit performance of Eve Ensler’s The Vagina Monologues in conjunction with Valentine’s Day. We also seek to promote a more positive self-image in women everywhere.

UR Legislative Debate Club

The Richmond Legislative Debate Club is committed to giving students at the University of Richmond the opportunity the debate over the policy issues currently facing America and learn the legislative process through a “hands on” approach. The club shall accomplish this goal through debating together as if it were a legislative body.

Students for Organ Donation (SOD)

Students for Organ Donation is committed to empowering University of Richmond students to make a difference in a growing international public health crisis -- the shortage of vital organs and tissues -- by promoting organ and tissue donation awareness and registration. SOD will benefit from support provided by the national chapter in the form of resources, ideas, and contacts. Possible chapter activities include holding an annual registration drive during the National Student Donate Life Week in April, distributing informative brochures concerning organ donation shortages and ways to assist, and arranging for speakers to address the general student body.
