Student Organizations Seeking Recognition
November 9, 2006

UR Parliamentary Debate Society
Purpose: The UR Parliamentary Debate Society is committed to promoting and encouraging the exchange of ideas throughout the University community. The organization accomplishes its mission by creating an engaging, stimulating atmosphere that confronts a broad range of current issues, by competing in intercollegiate debate tournaments, and by raising awareness of the value inherent in the civil and deliberate exchange of ideas and arguments.

Student Contact: John Calhoun
Faculty Advisor: Dr. Ana Mitric, Jepson School of Leadership Studies

The University of Richmond Shooting Club
Purpose: The University of Richmond Shooting Club is committed to promoting various shooting sports by focusing on the use of shotguns in sporting clays, skeet and trap. The organization will promote itself among University students, hold informal practices, and form a campaign to enter an intercollegiate competitive shooting program.

Student Contact: John Bonner, Alex Kirkby
Faculty Advisor: Dr. Michael Harrison, Geography

Up Till Dawn
Purpose: The purpose of Up Till Dawn is to educate the University of Richmond and the surrounding community about St. Jude Children’s Research Hospital while raising funds for the children at the hospital.

Staff Advisor: Alison Bartel Keller, Student Activities

Capoeira Dance and Martial Arts Society
Purpose: The Capoeira Dance and Martial Arts Society is committed to promoting cultural, mental and physiological development throughout the University campus and in the community. By learning and teaching the Afro-Brazilian dance, Capoeira, and its associated music, history, and culture; members will improve their self-awareness, confidence, and health while broadening their perspective. Participants will benefit from increased coordination, balance and creativity by combining dance and martial arts. Members will also learn basic skills in playing Brazilian percussion and singing Brazilian songs in an effort to gain a deeper understanding of Brazilian culture. Capoeira will give participants the opportunity to make arts and wellness part of their everyday life while being an example to others.
